MASTERING SOCIAL CODES IN LIFE:
AFTERNOON TEA

"There are few hours in life more agreeable than the hour dedicated to the ceremony known as afternoon tea."

HENRY JAMES

For those who've ever longed to feel like a real-life royal having tea in a palace, this lavishly elegant virtual experience is a must.

The ritual of afternoon tea is one steeped in tradition. Born from the Duchess of Bedford's desire to satisfy her afternoon hunger pangs, it's often thought of as old and stuffy. Not Tea with Heidi Dulebohn. She offers a modern twist on a traditional afternoon tea while maintaining the p's and q's of the noble ritual in the way it demands.

Is it milk first or tea first? Tea first, always. Pinkies up? Absolutely never.

During this fascinating, virtual or in-person experience, Heidi will guide you through the rich history of Afternoon Tea — don't even think of calling it high tea — in an entertaining and modern manner. Heidi will discuss how to set an appealing table, the different types of teas, brewing them, the customary menu, its presentation, and in which order to consume it. But, nothing stodgy here; this is about having fun while we eat, drink and merrymake.

We'll put our skills into practice and share an enjoyable afternoon together, eating gorgeous cakes, scones, and sandwiches, sipping delicate teas, and making memories. Oh, and we aren't opposed to adding some bubbly and going full-blown royal either.

So, join Heidi for an engaging experience to learn something new, or polish some old skills. This event will leave you confident enough to have tea with the Queen.

AFTERNOON TEA IS A WELCOMED RESPITE, WHETHER IT BE FAMILIAR OR SOMETHING NEW; AN OPPORTUNITY TO REVISIT AN OLD FRIEND OR MAKE A NEW ONE.

- Heidi has traveled the globe and had afternoon tea at some of the most prestigious locations. She brings the best qualities from each experience to her event.
- This isn't your average tea. It's interactive, engaging, and offers a luxurious educational vibe that combines the P's and Q's of tea etiquette, with social skills, and kitschy historical sidebars to add that "royal/Queen" factor.
- Indulge in a genteel British Afternoon Tea; and enjoy a modern take on a national treasure.
